International Meeting of Women Journalists and Communicators of the Mediterranean Region

The European Network of Women Journalists organized, in 1995, the conference "Women journalists, the Mediterranean and the future", a meeting that sought to create links between the two shores of the Mediterranean in difficult times for the exercise of the profession, especially if you are a woman practising journalism.

26 years have passed and although we can say that there have been many changes at the legal and social level regarding women, professional practice continues to be extremely violent in some Mediterranean countries. Establishing an authentic bridge of dialogue and communication between the two shores and creating alliances and cooperation between women journalists are two of the objectives pursued by this meeting to explain the Mediterranean from a feminist perspective.

Thursday, November 4, 2021 from 4pm to 8pm

DIALOGUE AND COMMUNICATION BRIDGES BETWEEN THE TWO SHORES:

We want to influence the construction of our own agenda that has as its central axis the visibility of women and their work in the construction of a more just, equitable and sustainable society.

4pm-4.30pm Opening

- Alicia Oliver, Coordinator of the European Network of Women Journalists
- Senén Florensa, President of the European Institute of the Mediterranean (IEMed)
- Miquel Rodríguez, Commissioner of the Agenda 2030 of Barcelona City Council
- Victòria Alsina, Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Catalan Government

4.30pm-6pm - Communication, SDG and Agenda 2030 of the Mediterranean

Climate change is affecting and will significantly affect the Mediterranean, which is why we are already talking about the “zero zone” of the climate crisis. We have seen it this summer with the increase in temperatures, fires, droughts or torrential floods that have devastated much of the Mediterranean coast.

- Nariman El Chamaa, journalist and chair of the NGO Donia for Sustainable Development - Lebanon
- Dionysia Vovou, communicator and feminist activist - Greece
- City Council representative (to be confirmed)
- Carme Gual, Director of the Catalan Agency for Development Cooperation (ACCD)
- Moderator: Pilar Sampietro, journalist RNE-Ràdio4

6pm-6.30pm Break

6.30pm-8pm - Social movements, Peace and Migration in the Mediterranean

10 years have passed since the social unrest in the Arab world, what is the current situation? In some countries it gave rise to civil wars that still continue. In addition, there are other conflicts in the area. What can be the role of women as agents of change and transformation to reinforce social dialogue in favor of human rights and make visible the movements in defense of peace?

- Asma Fatma Moatamri, journalist and feminist activist- Tunisia
- Hayam Kamel, producer of the TV 218News - Libya
- Alaa Karajeh, journalist of the Palestinian Broadcasting Corporation - PBC
